Contrary to expectations, raw material inflation continued to be strong

Price development of oil (Brent), EUR/tn

Price development of titanium dioxide, EUR/tn

- The prices of raw materials kept rising in the third quarter, in particular the prices of raw materials connected to oil prices, such as binders and solvents, continued to rise sharply.
- Rise in the titanium dioxide prices seems to be stabilizing.
- Venator's decision to close down the titanium dioxide factory in Pori does not have any direct implications for Tikkurila.
- Raw material inflation is expected to continue during the remainder of the year.

Sustainability requires actions, examples in 2018

Paint donation to New Children's Hospital in Helsinki

Eco-labeled interior paints and colors are supporting well-being of small patients. Tikkurila durable paints meet the strict hygiene requirements.

Sustainably packaged Vivacolor paints in the Baltics

New eco-labeled interior paints with recycled plastic cans.

Tikkurila X HEI Schools

Colors can enhance learning in schools and at home. Harmonious green is used to soothe and balance a space, blue tones are viewed as increasing concentration and happy yellow is said to stimulate both memory and thinking.

Climate change threatening building facades – Tikkurila's Finngard Clean is the answer

Due to the superhydrophobic surface, Finngard Clean products repel water and dirt, but allow any structural humidity to evaporate through it.

Surfaces that make a difference

Alcro's A1 paint marks a new chapter in creating more sustainable solutions. In this wall paint, a third of the raw materials that usually are fossil-based have been replaced with bio-based ingredients.

Conclusions and outlook

Conclusions

- Market outlook is fairly good for the rest of the year, positive volume development is expected to continue
- We will invest heavily in boosting our sales by developing customer management e.g. by utilizing customer data even better and by digitalizing sales management and customer processes
- Raw material prices are anticipated to continue to rise, we will increase our own sales prices during year-end 2018 and early 2019, depending on the market
- Our profitability level is unsatisfactory and thus we will continue to further streamline our operations and to cut fixed expenses.
   Increasing the efficiency of the raw and packaging material sourcing and optimizing the portfolio remains our key focus areas
- We believe that the adjusted operating loss for Q4/2018 will be lower than a year ago

Guidance for 2018 intact

Revenue and profitability of Tikkurila 2010-2017

Outlook and guidance for 2018

The market outlook for the current year is relatively good, although uncertainty has increased in the housing market. Economic growth is anticipated to continue in Tikkurila's key markets and consumer confidence is high. The importance of professional segment is on the rise which will affect the sales split of the Tikkurila Group. The identified problems with the deployment of the ERP system have mostly been resolved, and inventory levels have been significantly raised in order to ensure deliveries.

The prices of raw materials and packaging materials are anticipated to continue rising during the remainder of the year. Some challenges with availability may also still occur. In order to compensate for increased costs, Tikkurila will continue to raise its sales prices and to take action to boost profitability.

Tikkurila's revenue is expected to remain at last year's level and adjusted operating profit to improve.
